Mystery Cafe Dinner Theater presents "Murder by Chicken" at the Ramada Inn MOA. Fast talking gangsters with their belts up to their chests. An upper crust, dysfunctional British family on the verge of ruin. A persnickety French butler. A hard drinking, trash-talking grandmother... all have come to hear famous scientist and author Sir Wensersmith Flippenshire read from his new, as-yet unpublished, bombshell of a book, "The Chicken and the Egg." It has been reported that Sir Flippenshire has discovered which came first! There is a problem however... He shows up dead, and the manuscript is missing. Hilarity ensues as ten suspects (played by five frantic actors) stumble to beat each other to the valuable discovery of the age old secret. A discovery worth millions... and worth killing for.

See the Tony Award®-winning Broadway sensation that Newsweek calls "a landmark event in entertainment." The New York Times says, "There is simply nothing else like it." At age 102, Ivy Bean of Bradford, England joined Facebook in 2008, making her one of the oldest people ever on Facebook. An inspiration to other residents of the care home in which she lived she quickly became more widely known and several fan pages were made in her honor. She visited Prime Minister Gordon Brown and his wife, Sarah, in Downing Street early in 2010. At the time of her death in July 2010, she had 4,962 friends on Facebook.

January/February 2012

Did you give or receive a book for Christmas? As I am writing this I haven't received my book, but I know I'm getting one.

Life's Book

Life is filled with pages, We write in day to day
And all are illustrated, In every sort of way
As we read them over, A chapter here and there
We find mistakes and failures,
But always compensating, Are dreams that have come true,
Perhaps an act of kindness, A little bit of drama
Some comedy as well, Is there among life's pages
In the story that they tell

I read this recently: " There are two books that should be in every home. The Bible, which tells of the miracle of God, and the seed catalogue, which proves it.

Happy New Year!
